

NOTE TO GERMANIA'S APPEALS TO WAR GOES TO BERLIN SOON

President Wilson is Putting Finishing Touches on His Second Message Regarding Sinking of Lusitania

ONLY MINOR CHANGES SUGGESTED BY ADVISERS

Brief but Emphatic Statement of This Country's Position on Submarine Warfare Goes Forward Tonight or Sunday

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 5.—President Wilson was today putting the finishing touches on his latest note to Germany concerning the sinking of the Lusitania. It already had been approved in principle by the cabinet. All that was needed was to start the communication on its way to Berlin via the making of minor changes in phrasing. This was the task before the president.

The president was expected to complete the work of revision during the day. The note will then be sent to the state department for transmission by cable probably tonight or tomorrow to Ambassador Gerard at Berlin, who will in turn present it to the German foreign office.

Previous reports that the note will be brief, but emphatic, are borne out. It is said by the text as it now stands. The principles of the note are fixed and in the view of the United States must now definitely and promptly whether Germany intends to stop and search rights and continue torpedoing vessels without warning, or whether rules of maritime warfare have governed for centuries will be followed.

The alternative course is not stated, but it is generally known that the United States in the event of an unfavorable reply will discontinue diplomatic relations with Germany.

The note sets aside as irrelevant all contentions of the German reply except those which the Lusitania sinking involved—restates the position taken by the United States in the Lusitania case after official investigation by competent inspectors, sailed from an American port with no guns aboard, and further calls Germany's attention to the fact that the Lusitania was not an attempt to resist, but was torpedoed without warning.

While there was a general reference to discuss the contents of the new note, the impression prevailed in the White House that the document was emphatic particularly in that it does not discuss the Lusitania sinking, but restates the position taken by the United States in the Lusitania case after official investigation by competent inspectors, sailed from an American port with no guns aboard, and further calls Germany's attention to the fact that the Lusitania was not an attempt to resist, but was torpedoed without warning.

The warning that the stories have reference to, said Secretary Bryan, "is what has been said all the time since the war began. It has been said in all the places, that if Germany does not stop, Europe is not a good place for Americans to be."

Young Adair eliminated John M. Brannan, of Montgomery, 5-4 this morning in the semi-finals, while his father defeated Herman Jerigan, 1 up.

Young Adair made the course in 76. George Adair defeated Jerigan at the eighteenth hole by four strokes to Brannan's five.

Veteran W. J. Travis And Anderson Play First 18 All Even

(By Associated Press.)
RYE, N. Y., June 5.—Walter J. Travis, veteran of the golf links, and John C. Anderson, formerly of Boston, were all even at the end of the morning play today in the 18-hole final for the Metropolitan championship over the course of the Apawamis club. The play of both was somewhat ragged. Travis made the 18 holes in 82 and Anderson in 81 strokes.

In the second half of the match Travis was 2 up at the turn.

At the ninth hole Anderson was one up on the veteran Travis.

This was the fifth time Travis has played in the decisive round for the Metropolitan championship, which he has won twice. In this tournament he has defeated Oswald Kirby, last year's Metropolitan champion; Jerome D. Travis, Percy Pine and Percy Platt.

Travis, the only player in the Metropolitan tournament, but he has held the Massachusetts amateur title twice and was runner-up in the national championship two years ago. He represents the Rye Country Club.

DETAIL OF MATCH.
The details of today's championship match, played by play, followed. Anderson drove Travis from the first tee and the veteran of Rye was in a hole in two. Anderson was down in a pair. Travis taking 2, 4-5. Anderson was one up. The second hole was halved in play.

Going to the third Anderson sliced into a snarl trap, but a ten-foot putt saved him to make 10 in four. Travis pitched short into a trap and Anderson won the fourth in 6 to 4. Anderson was 2 up.

On the fifth Anderson was 30 feet short from the tee, and Travis took the hole 5-4. A topped tee shot by Anderson gave Travis a chance and the sixth he squared the match. All the seventh Travis was short on his second and his putt knocked Anderson's ball into the hole, giving the Massachusetts man a three and making him one up.

On the eighth Travis was down in 3 and again they were even, but on the ninth Anderson holed in 4 to 3. Travis was up at the turn.

Travis took the tenth in a pair to four, and they were all even. Anderson's blunder did him on the next as he sliced out of bounds and gave Anderson the stroke, giving the Massachusetts man a three and making him one up.

Anderson made amends in the next with a beautiful drive while Travis pulled into the rough. Anderson was down in 3. They were all even.

Anderson's drive was a good one, but again Anderson took the fifteenth in four to five. The statistician was halved in six; the eighteenth was halved in four, and the first nine holes ended with honors even. U. S. OFFICIALS SEE HOPE IN CARRANZA'S STATEMENT

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 5.—Unofficial advice received here from Vera Cruz today that General Carranza would reply favorably to President Wilson's statement calling upon the heads of the warring factions in Mexico to restore peace in the southern republic, gave renewed hope to administration officials today of ultimate solution of the problem.

General Carranza is the first one of the heads of the warring factions to be heard from directly concerning the president's warning. Officials have heard indirectly from General Villa through his representatives that he was favorable to the president's proposal.

General Carranza's reply, it was said, was being prepared by Jesus Crutista, constitutional foreign minister, and would be delivered to John P. Silliman, President Wilson's personal representative in Mexico, probably by Monday.

The Carranza representative was "appreciative, friendly and serene" in tone, Carranza, it was said, intended to interpret the president's warning as a tacit hint that he was the man best suited to assume leadership in Mexico, and most likely to receive recognition by the United States as constitutional ruler.

State department officials today awaited Carranza's reply from Mexico. Carranza's representatives in Mexico had been called for to make returns from Mexico.

These returns, which had been called for to make returns from Mexico, were being sent to the state department.

MAJOR GUINN ADDRESSES SWEET GIRL GRADUATES

President of City Education
Board Tells of Needs of Atlanta High Schools

A very interesting address on "The Place of the High School in the Public Education System" was delivered Friday evening by Major I. J. Guinn, president of the city board of education, to the graduating classes of the Girls' High school and the English Commercial High school.

The graduating exercises were held in the Atlanta theater in the presence of a large audience. Seventy-four girls from the Girls' High school and fifty-four girls from the English Commercial High school were seated on the stage and made a wonderfully pretty picture in their white dresses with bouquets of roses.

The two classes in chorus sang a song from Faust and a serenade by Pierrot. Miss Culbreth of the Girls' High delivered an address on "The Real High School," and Miss Pauline Fausz read an essay written by Miss Ruby Harris of the English Commercial.

William M. Stanton, superintendent of schools, presided as master of ceremonies. Major Guinn in discussing the place of the high school in the public education system said that the state has come in the educational development of Atlanta when every definite attainment must be given to the high schools in order that simple justice may be done to the thousands of bright, capable and young women who are ambitious to be educated.

"We not only need and must have educational equipment in the way of buildings and grounds," said Major Guinn, "but we must also have the personnel to operate the system. It is not enough that we have the buildings and grounds, but we must have the personnel to operate the system."

"To meet this responsibility the school system must realize that the efficiency of the work which it is doing cannot be determined until the time has come when the state of the school system is determined by the state of the school system."

Continuing, Major Guinn said the high schools can never hope to do the proper training with their present inadequate equipment. Reviewing some of the advances taken in the high schools within the past year, he mentioned the domestic science course in the Girls' High, which required part of the day to be taken in the home, and the change from the grade system to the unit system, which enables students to advance as rapidly as their intelligence and industry carry them, and in connection with these he said the high schools in the future must have afternoon and night sessions to place them within reach of young men and women who are obliged to earn their living while getting an education.

STORY ABOUT POLICEMEN BEING DRUNK, TOO THIN

Mrs. Etta Buchanan Is Sent to Stockade Because Her Language Was Profane

"Here I am again," said Mrs. Etta Buchanan, of Glenwood avenue, who was arrested Friday afternoon charged with using profane language to her sister and her children.

Buchanan insisted that the policeman who arrested her Thursday was drunk, and that she met other drunk policemen sitting in the patrol wagon. "They were all so drunk they had to drive through Grant park to get to the station," explained Mrs. Buchanan to the judge.

"Yes," said Judge Johnson, winking the officers, "they are always drunk. I'll try them and send them up to it as soon as your case is finished."

Mrs. Buchanan was once tried for profanity, but the jury didn't find her insane. Dr. Martin examined her Friday afternoon at the request of Judge Johnson, who then ordered her sent to the stockade for thirty days.

POWER COMPANY WINS IN POSITION ON RAILS

City Will Not Press Demand for Grooved Rail on Grant Street

The street committee of council Friday afternoon agreed not to require the Georgia Railway and Power company to substitute a grooved rail for a "T" rail on its double tracks on Grant street where a wood block pavement is laid on that thoroughfare.

The power company in a letter to the street department refused to comply with the requirements of a council resolution calling for the change of rails, and it was at first thought a court action would result.

At the meeting of the street committee, however, Chief of Construction Nym Hurl stated that a wood block pavement could be laid as well where there is a "T" rail as a grooved rail, although some members of council contended that wood block paving on a street where there is a "T" rail would soon be ruined.

On one of its tracks on Grant street the power company has a comparatively new and heavy "T" rail. On the other track the "T" rail is older, lighter and more worn.

The street committee agreed that it would drop the effort to have a grooved rail placed on the street on both tracks if the trolley company would substitute a new and heavy "T" rail for the older track which leave the new one as it now stands. The power company agreed to do this, and the matter has apparently ended.

Mr. Hurl said the city could require a bond of the contractor laying the pavement to insure it, but no action was taken on this by the committee.

Nix was told his wound would probably prove fatal, and made a statement exonerating Hartwell of any blame for the shooting. They were examining the revolver Friday morning, he said, when the weapon accidentally went off while Hartwell was holding it. The two men are close friends.

Nix has a wife and young son.

FIGHT IS STARTED UPON TWO DEPARTMENTS

Construction Department and Tax Assessor's Office Is Placed Under Fire

What is expected to be a vigorous council fight on two city departments was begun Friday afternoon at a meeting of the charter amendment committee of council.

Alderman James W. Maddox, of the Fifth ward, opened fire on the city construction department, branding it as inefficient, and declaring that many of the employees held their position not by virtue of the service rendered the city but because of the number of votes they are able to sway at election time.

By resolution by Mr. Maddox, asking the state legislature to amend the charter so the office of chief of construction can be filled by council instead of being elective by the people was adopted by the committee. The resolution provides that the change become effective January 1, 1916, but some of the members of the committee doubt the legality of this provision, since the term to which the present chief of construction, Nym Hurl, was elected does not expire until January, 1917.

While he stated he did not wish to criticize Mr. Hurl, Alderman Maddox rapped the department at length. Instances of his own knowledge where he said the construction department kept six men to do the work one man could easily do. None of the five members of the committee present attended council to defend the department and all voted for the resolution.

The other members to come under fire was that controlled by the tax assessor. A resolution by Councilman C. W. W. Hines proposed to take the control of the tax office from the three assessors and place it completely under the power of appointing authority.

This would take from the assessors the power of appointing authority, and the tax office, and leave them no work except the actual assessing of property.

MRS. W. J. KINCAID IS IN SERIOUS CONDITION

The conservatory was notified, and it in turn notified her family in Griffin.

Her son-in-law and daughter, Dr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Thomas, of this city, rushed to Atlanta in their automobile, and other members of the family arrived later.

Mrs. Kincaid is believed by a host of friends here and in Griffin who hope for her speedy recovery.

MR. AND MRS. BOATMAN TENDER RESIGNATIONS

For the past seven years in charge of the choir at the Baptist tabernacle as director and organist respectively.

Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Boatman have resigned. The move, regretted by the choir and congregation, but the finance committee reported its resources were not such as to give them ample remuneration. An effort is being made by some members to raise sufficient funds to retain Mr. and Mrs. Boatman.

APPEAL TO BE TAKEN IN STEEL TRUST CASE

Federal Officials Study Decision in Favor of Steel Corporation

(By Associated Press.)
WASHINGTON, June 5.—Department of justice officials were today studying the decision of the federal district court at Trenton, N. J., which dismissed the government's suit for the dissolution of the United States Steel corporation, with the intention of taking an appeal to the supreme court.

Formal announcement that an appeal would be taken, was made by Attorney General Gregory following the receipt by him of the full text of the district court's decision. He said also that, although the case against the steel corporation was instituted by the previous administration, he was in complete accord with the view of the law on which it was based.

Administration officials who regard the proceedings as one of the most important ever brought under the Sherman antitrust law are said to be in full agreement that an appeal should be taken.

WILL THE MAYOR AND COUNCIL AGAIN LICENSE LAW-BREAKING?

"Jesus said unto them---'If ye were blind, ye would have no sin; but now ye say, "WE SEE"; therefore your sin remaineth.'"---John 9:41

Law-breaking breeds insecurity.

Insecurity brings lack of confidence.

Lack of confidence means loss of business.

Hence the break between blind-tigers and bankers.

Liquor, wine and beer will no more be seen at the banquets and meetings of the Georgia Bankers' Association.

They have cut intoxicants from their programs.

THE FINANCE COMMITTEE OF COUNCIL

should do likewise. They would make a mistake to figure longer upon getting money by the sale of whiskey, wine and beer in Atlanta. It is too easily stopped. A few private citizens in Athens, growing weary of the continued betrayal of their city, have put the beer-joints out of business with an injunction.

The same thing was done in Fitzgerald.

Judge George, in the case there, the 31st of March, said:

"W. W. Murray and Fitzgerald Ice Company are hereby enjoined and restrained from selling any intoxicating beverage or intoxicating beers—

"It is found, as a matter of fact, that—the samples of beer marked

"BLUE RIBBON' AND 'SCHLITZ'---

"ARE INTOXICATING BEERS"

Georgia courts hold—You cannot collect for beer sold. The Cook Brewing & Ice Company, which nightly by flashing in blazing light across the heart of her capital city an advertisement of stuff which it is a crime to sell in Georgia, has found this out.

INSULTS THE STATE

Think of this, when you see that sign in Five Points, and answer—

Would it be wise for the Mayor and Council to count on making money by the sale of whiskey, wine and beer during the coming six months?

A thief's need for money is no excuse for burglary.

Is it possible, that the Mayor and Council will again refuse to heed the respectful request of tax-paying citizens that these public officials, as their representatives, do not drag the name of Atlanta in the mud by making her and each of her citizens parties to breaking the law, partners with blind-tigers by licensing them?

The injunction has not been used by us here because we have hoped that the city, acting through the proper officers, would put an end to law breaking where those engaged in it refused to obey the law.

We have not wished to advertise to the world that—

The Mayor and Council of the Capital of Georgia compel private citizens to protect themselves from law-breaking brewers and distillers, and the retailers of their poisons, by appealing to the courts.

BUT THE INJUNCTION

is there, if all else fails.

We have no wish to use it, but—
